Subjects Covered: Organization, functions, and problems of cooperatives; credit cooperatives; leadership problems of cooperatives

Review: Contains seven articles describing the purpose, organization, operations, and problems of cooperatives. Deals with the questions of leadership, capitalization, distribution of profits, etc. Two of the articles are by Hsieh Mu-ch'iao, one of which is an introductory article on cooperatives and the other a report on the cooperative movement in Shanghai. Articles are promotional rather than informative; subsequent communist publications offer more information regarding the cooperative movement of the 1949 period covered by this booklet.
